Be Prepared!

Earthquake Preparedness & Emergency Preparedness go hand in hand.

Why is earthquake preparedness important in Utah?

Utah has experienced damaging earthquakes in the past and geologic evidence indicates that earthquakes larger than any experienced locally in historical time are likely in the future.

We must prepare for earthquakes because:

- * Utah is a seismically active region
- * A majority of Utah's population is concentrated in the areas of greatest hazard
- * Many of Utah's older buildings and lifelines have low earthquake resistance

Wasatch Fault Flyby

This flyby video highlights the Salt Lake City segment of the Wasatch fault, which traces along the eastern side of Salt Lake Valley. The 240-mile-long Wasatch fault is sectioned into 10 segments averaging 25 miles in length. In addition to showing where the fault is and its proximity to highways and towns, photos are included that show fault scarps and other geologic features. The audio portion covers the geologic story of the Wasatch fault, as well as some of today's concerns about the earthquake hazard the fault poses to this heavily urbanized area of Utah.

2010 Legislative Session

Representative Trisha Beck successfully passed HB 222, Land Use Meeting Notice, in the 2010 Legislative Session.

This bill amends the notice requirements for a public hearing to adopt or modify a land use ordinance. Originally, it was required by statute that the notice of a public hearing be mailed to each property owner whose land would be directly affected by the land use ordinance change, only 3 days in advance. With the passage of HB 222, the notice must now be mailed at least 10 days before the public hearing to affected property owners. This allows time for affected property owners to readjust their schedules if they would like to attend the public hearing.

The issue was brought forth by White City Community Council Members. The legislation was praised by so many groups, including the Governor's Office of Planning and Budget. We had the support of the League of Cities and Towns, Utah Association of Counties and many more.

SB 215 by Senator Neiderhauser, enables the following partnership with the State of Utah and Salt Lake County Residents of Salt Lake County have voted 3 times over the last 15 years to impose a 1st, 2nd and 3rd ¼ of ¼ percent addition to the total sales tax that is charged in Salt Lake County. One of those ¼ of a ¼ sales tax earmarks was created in 1998 and is dedicated to a Salt Lake County Restricted Transportation Fund. This Restricted Transportation Fund is to be used for the construction, preservation, maintenance and right of way acquisition of state highways and roads of regional significance within Salt Lake County.

In 2003 and again in 2007 the State of Utah issued general obligation (GO) bonds to secure the funds needed to complete a myriad of road construction and acquisition projects that were recommended by the Wasatch Front Regional Council. The ¼ of a ¼ is the revenue source dedicated to the payment of the bonds. It had been anticipated that 2010 would be time for another Salt Lake County highway road bond to complete a new round of road projects.

However, since the State of Utah is getting close to their statutory statewide bonding maximum the legislature asked Salt Lake County to issue the bonds instead. Salt Lake County agreed to issue the bonds and the County will then enter into agreements with the Utah Department of Transportation to be enable such much needed congestion mitigation by completing road projects that have become serious choke points spread throughout Salt Lake County.

These are the projects that will be paid for from the $77 million the bond proceeds are expected to raise:

- 1) 5400 South -- Bangerter Highway to 4000 West
- 2) Bangerter Highway at SR-201
- 3) 2300 South at State Street
- 4) Bangerter Highway at 6200 South
- 5) Bangerter Highway at 7000 South
- 6) Bangerter Highway at 3100 South
- 7) 5400 South -- 4000 West to past 4800 West
- 8) 9400 South and Wasatch Boulevard
- 9) 215 West Interchange -- 3500 South to 3800 South & ramp work
- 10) Widen and improve US-89 between 7200 South and 9000 South
- 11) Improvements on 2300 East in Salt Lake County
- 12) Improvements on North Temple in Salt Lake City
- 13) Improvements on 4800 South in Murray City
- 14) Improvements on for 13400 South in Riverton City (4000 West to 4570 West)

Last year the involvements of volunteer citizen elected community councils saved Salt Lake County over $360,000. The process for our form of government began in 1979. Salt Lake County adopted the ordinance officially recognizing us in 1985. Nationally Salt Lake County won an award for having implemented this form of government.

Scott Baird Appointed Division Director For SLCo Flood Control/Engineering

A 15 year veteran of Salt Lake County Public Works Department has been named the new director for the Division of Highway Engineering and Flood Control.

Scott Baird replaces long time director Neil Stack, who retired last month after 34 years with Salt Lake County. Public Works Director Linda Hamilton made the announcement today. "Scott is a valued employee and he's certainly the right choice to succeed Neil," says Mayor Peter Corroon.

Mr. Baird was the project manager for the Millcreek Fire Flow Special Improvement District. Other key assignments included design, analysis, and review of open channels, storm drains, detention basins, and flood plain revisions.

Scott graduated from Brigham Young University with a master's degree in Civil and Environmental Engineering with an emphasis on water resources. Scott was born in Southern Utah and comes from a farming background.

"I think growing up in rural Utah gave me a great appreciation for our natural environment," says Mr. Baird.

The Division of Highway Engineering and Flood control is responsible for the planning, design and construction of county roads, highways, bridges, curbs, gutters, sidewalks, drainage and flood control facilities.

It also regulates flood control facilities and provides educational programs to reduce and prevent water pollution in the county.

Mr. Baird was introduced to the Salt Lake County Council today. Scott lives in Cedar Hills with his wife Tamra Gale.

White City Township Council has agreed to help get the word out in support of this campaign.

Campaign to Fund The Utah Housing First Endowment To End Homelessness in Utah

A plan to raise a Homeless Housing Endowment of at least $100 million. This Endowment would be established by Utah individuals and corporations contributing, one time only, 1% of one year's income. 100% of these contributions would go to the Endowment; and 100% of its earnings would be divided annually in perpetuity among Housing Authority regions throughout the State in proportion to their homeless housing needs.

In 2004 the State of Utah, the City and County of Salt Lake, joined the National Campaign To End Homelessness In Ten Years with a Housing First campaign. Housing First provides supportive housing for the chronically homeless.

Supportive Housing provides 24 hour management, whatever mental or physical illness treatment is necessary to their rehabilitation and their return to society as respected citizens.

Instead of the longstanding, ineffective practice of warehousing the homeless in shelters and transient housing until they are rehabilitated, Housing First, through provision of permanent Supportive Housing, has been dramatically successful wherever it has been undertaken in United States cities, including Salt Lake, in bringing about permanent rehabilitation of the chronically homeless - and at great savings for taxpayers of the huge costs of jail-time, hospitalization, mental and/or physical treatment and care, and temporary housing.

In Salt Lake City the first Housing First project, the 100 unit Sunrise Apartments was completed in March 2007 and is now fully occupied. A Salt Lake County 84 unit Grace Mary Manor Housing First complex completed in the spring of 2008 is also fully occupied as is the Palmer Court (201 units) completed in 2009. The Kelly Benson project (59 units for persons 55 years and older) is under construction. It will be completed in early 2010. Scattered smaller supportive housing projects bring the total to date to 480 units, housing 657 formerly chronically homeless persons.

At the present rate of completion, however, it will take many more than ten years to end chronic homelessness as it exists today; and no one can predict the needs of future generations. A recent official statewide count estimates 2200 Housing First units will still be needed statewide to achieve the end of homelessness goal; 1350 in Salt Lake County.

To assure the timely end of homelessness, much greater private funding will be required. The creation of a privately funded permanent endowment of at least $100 million is indicated.

To fund such a Homeless Housing Endowment this procedure is planned:

The Utah state Tax Commission reported total individual and corporation income in excess of $60 billion for the year 2007 (the latest statistic available).

This amount suggests an intense statewide Homeless Housing First Endowment campaign asking all individuals and corporations to contribute 1% of one year's income, once in a lifetime, to the Endowment, payable in whatever installments that will make the gift painless.

100% participation would total $520 million. Though greater participation would be sought, 20% participation would fund a $104 million Endowment.

Such Endowment in a normal economy could earn at least 8%, or $8.3 million annually. That amount would be 7 times the amount of seed money that the Crusade and the George Eccles Foundation were able to contribute to the first two Supportive Housing projects. $8.3 million, indeed would be sufficient to build 83 housing units per year without any government contribution. However, with government participation of just 3 times the Endowment contribution, 250 units a year could be constructed.

A united Utah good neighbor action will make this great humanitarian effort come true.

We are the garbage and recycling collectors for Salt Lake County Special Service District No. 1 (Sanitation). We provide services to residents in the unincorporated county and Herriman, Taylorsville, Holladay, Cottonwood Heights, and parts of Murray.

We are funded by the $11 per month/$132 annual fee charged to all residents in the District. This fee is attached to your annual property tax notice. Property taxes do not fund sanitation services.

Your Sanitation Package

For your $132 annual fee you get a package of services, because not everything can fit in the can:

In addition, we offer trailers for rent throughout the year to help you dispose of large or bulky items and yard waste.

Green waste

Currently Salt Lake County Sanitation does not collect green waste in curbside cans. One of our goals is to divert as much recyclable material from the landfill as we can including finding ways to manage green waste: grass clippings, yard waste, fruit and vegetable scraps, and branches. You can read about our research on green waste disposal in our May 2009 newsletter and see a chart showing how much green waste we collect and where. If you want to divert your green waste try home composting or rent one of our residential trailers.

Landfills

We are not a landfill. There are two landfills in Salt Lake County. The Salt Lake Valley Landfill is jointly operated by Salt Lake County and Salt Lake City. TransJordan Landfill serves the southern part of the county and is jointly owned by the cities of South Jordan, West Jordan, Riverton, Murray, Sandy, Draper, and Midvale.

Household hazardous waste

We do not handle household hazardous waste, compact fluorescent light bulbs, e-waste, or pharmaceutical disposal, but can help you find everything you need to know about waste disposal.

Our area has been provided, a few vouchers for residents in need of taking a pickup truck load to the dump. Loads will be taken to Trans Jordan Landfill at 10873 S. 7200 W. , South Jordan , Utah. Open for residential waste disposal Monday – Saturday, 7:00 a.m. – 6:00 p.m.
